About Kelly Goodwin, MSN, APRN, AGPCNP-C

Kelly Goodwin chose to become a nurse practitioner because she is passionate about helping people. “To aid in restoring someone’s health also directly impacts their state of mind and quality of life. I love to see my patients smile and be full of hope,” she says. She enjoys learning from patients and believes everyone deserves access to “quality healthcare.” In her practice, she emphasizes the importance of preventative care. “I want to be able to inspire my patients to be active participants in their healthcare, which will foster improved health for their families and communities,” she explains.

In her free time, Kelly Goodwin enjoys traveling and going to festivals. She also loves attending church and learning new things.
